

New Geography Knowledge

Things you already know

- You know the name and location of the seven continents of the world
- You know the name and location of the five oceans of the world
- You know that enslaved people were taken across the Atlantic Ocean from Africa to North and South America

Key Vocabulary

human features

things we can see in our environment that are created or built by humans physical features

things we can see in our environment that are created by nature village

an areas with a small population and a small number of houses and shops

city

areas with a large population living there and a very large number of houses and shops culture

the behaviour or opinions shared by a group who live in the same area wildlife

wild animals that naturally live in an area

- You will learn about the equator and how this area of the earth can help explain weather patterns
- You will learn about human features and physical features
- You will learn about the differences between villages and cities in the UK and in the Caribbean
- You will learn about differences in culture between the UK and the Caribbean
- You will learn about different wildlife in the UK and the Caribbean

New Geography Skills

Skills you already have

- You can use maps to locate the U.K and the world's oceans and continents
- You can use a compass to find a direction
- You can use directional language to plot a route on a map

- You will know how to compare two different locations
- You will learn how to identify weather patterns in two different locations
- You will learn how to identify human and physical features

